WELCOME TO THE SKILLS IN THE STATES FORUM

Welcome to Skills in the States: A Cross-State Forum for Policy, Advocacy, and Impact. You’re joined by workforce advocates, researchers, practitioners, and philanthropic partners from 20 states and D.C. Each participant is working to advance skills policies in their home state.

We’re all aware of the challenge in front of us: although skills are crucial to economic opportunity, too few among us have access to the kinds of postsecondary education and training demanded by today’s labor market. But with our help, states can adopt policies that expand access to skills, credentials, and family supporting careers, particularly for those who have faced barriers to economic opportunity.

National Skills Coalition is hosting this convening to provide an opportunity for us to tap into each other’s policy knowledge and advocacy savvy. Over the next two days, we’ll discuss actionable skills policies with peers from across the nation. We’ll also share experiences and insights on how to work with partners in our own states to move those policies forward when we return home.

Thank you for coming to Detroit to lend your voice to the discussion on skills policy, advocacy, and impact in the states.

The Skills in the States Forum Steering Committee,

Andrew Bradley
Indiana Institute for Working Families

Julie Brown
Dan River Region Collaborative

Melissa Johnson
Georgia Budget and Policy Institute

Alice Pritchard
Connecticut State Colleges and Universities

Carrie Thomas
Chicago Jobs Council

NATIONAL SKILLS COALITION
Every worker. Every industry. A strong economy.
MONDAY, OCTOBER 17, 2016

8:00 A.M. - 8:30 A.M.  PRE-FORUM MEETING BREAKFAST (INVITATION ONLY)

8:30 A.M. - 11:30 A.M.  PRE-FORUM MEETINGS (INVITATION ONLY)
Woodward B, 2nd Floor
- Advocating for Skills-Based SNAP E&T
- Making Workforce Data Work
Woodward D, 2nd Floor

12:00 P.M. - 1:45 P.M.  LUNCH AND WELCOME
Venetian Ballroom, 4th Floor

PLENARY DISCUSSION – STATE POLICIES FOR SKILLS EQUITY
Although skills are critical for economic opportunity, not all people have access to education and training required by today's labor market. States need better policies to ensure that everyone can build skills that lead to credentials and family supporting careers. During this plenary session, three advocates will discuss policies that expand access to skill building and why they matter for advancing equity for underserved populations in their state.

- Emily Price Chief Program Officer, Center for Employment Training at So Others Might Eat, District of Columbia
- Sarah Labadie Senior Policy Associate, Women Employed, Illinois
- Corey Wiggins Director, Hope Policy Institute, Mississippi

MODERATOR: Brooke DeRenzis Senior State Policy Analyst, National Skills Coalition

1:45 P.M. - 2:00 P.M.  BREAK

2:00 P.M. - 3:15 P.M.  ROUND 1 CONCURRENT PEER-TO-PEER SESSIONS ON STATE POLICIES
During these peer-to-peer sessions, participants will discuss a state skills policy issue and strategies for advancing it.

Woodward C, 2nd Floor
SECTOR PARTNERSHIPS: Sector partnerships bring together multiple employers in an industry with education, training, labor, community-based, and other organizations to address that industry's local skill needs. States can adopt policies that support local sector partnerships through funding, technical assistance, and/or program initiatives.

PEER LEADS: Julie Brown Dan River Region Collaborative (VA); Rebecca Kusner New Growth Group (OH)
NSC LEAD: Bryan Wilson
FACILITATOR: Jessie Hogg Leslie National Skills Coalition

Woodward D, 2nd Floor
INTEGRATED EDUCATION AND TRAINING: Integrated education and training teaches basic literacy, numeracy, and/or English language skills concurrently with and in the context of occupational skills. State policies can require implementation of or provide funding for integrated education and training programs.

PEER LEADS: Carrie Thomas Chicago Jobs Council (IL); Frank Waterous The Bell Policy Center (CO)
NSC LEAD: Amanda Bergson-Shilcock
FACILITATOR: Brandon Roberts Working Poor Families Project

Woodward B, 2nd Floor
JOB-DRIVEN FINANCIAL AID: States can provide job-driven financial aid to students in middle-skill training, including those enrolled in short-term occupational programs and those enrolled less than half time due to work and family obligations.

PEER LEADS: Andrew Bradley Indiana Institute for Working Families (IN); Pat Steele Central Iowa Works (IA)
NSC LEAD AND FACILITATOR: Rachel Unruh
3:15 P.M. – 3:30 P.M.  BREAK WOODWARD FOYER, 2ND FLOOR

3:30 P.M. – 4:45 P.M.  ROUND 2 CONCURRENT PEER-TO-PEER SESSIONS ON STATE POLICIES
During these peer-to-peer sessions, participants will discuss a state skills policy issue and strategies for advancing it.

Woodward D, 2nd Floor  WORKFORCE DATA POLICIES: States can adopt policies to create aligned, inclusive, and market-relevant data systems. With good workforce data, students and workers can tell which programs do the best at helping people land a job and advance in the labor market, and policymakers can tell which education and training pathways produce the best outcomes for people with different skill needs.

PEER LEADS: Marybeth Campbell SkillWorks: Partners for a Productive Workforce (MA); Rona Sherriff California EDGE Coalition (CA)

NSC LEAD: Jenna Leventoff Workforce Data Quality Campaign
FACILITATOR: Rachel Zinn Workforce Data Quality Campaign

Woodward C, 2nd Floor  SKILLS-BASED TANF AND SNAP E&T PROGRAMS: States can set policies to increase access to education, training, and support services for participants of Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) and Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Employment & Training (SNAP E&T).

PEER LEADS: Melissa Johnson Georgia Budget and Policy Institute (GA); Hannah Halbert Policy Matters Ohio (OH)

NSC LEAD AND FACILITATOR: Brooke DeRenzis

Woodward B, 2nd Floor  STACKABLE CREDENTIALS AND OTHER CTE POLICIES: Stackable credentials are a sequence of credentials that articulate toward a higher-level certificate or associate degree. Stackable credentials allow students to earn an industry-recognized credential in short order so they can find skilled work while continuing to prepare for the next step in their career without losing credit for prior education. States can use career and technical education (CTE) policies to require or promote stackable credentials and other forms of job-driven training.

PEER LEADS: Alice Pritchard Connecticut State Colleges and Universities (CT); Cheryl Hay JobsOhio (OH)

NSC LEAD: Bryan Wilson
FACILITATOR: Brenda Dann-Messier CCSSO

5:15 P.M. – 6:15 P.M.  RECEPTION VENETIAN BALLROOM, 4TH FLOOR

6:15 P.M. – 8:00 P.M.  DINNER AND PLENARY DISCUSSION – DETROIT: THE STATE-LOCAL SKILLS CONNECTION

Venetian Ballroom, 4th Floor  With Detroit’s economic recovery underway, government, nonprofits, businesses, and philanthropy are working together to help residents get the skills they need to succeed in the region’s growing labor market. City and state leaders will discuss new skill-building initiatives in the city of Detroit, why they are key to developing an inclusive regional economy, and the important role that state policies play in helping Detroit close the skill gap.

OPENING REMARKS: Andy Levin Levin Energy Partners, LLC and National Skills Coalition Board Member
- Jason D. Lee CEO, Focus:HOPE
- Jeff Donofrio Detroit’s Director of Workforce Development and Executive Director, the Mayor’s Workforce Development Board
- Wanda Stokes Director, Michigan Talent Investment Agency

MODERATOR: Chauncy Lennon Managing Director & Head of Workforce Initiatives, Global Philanthropy, JPMorgan Chase
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 2016

8:00 A.M. – 9:00 A.M.
BREAKFAST
VENETIAN BALLROOM, 4TH FLOOR

9:00 A.M. - 9:15 A.M.
OPENING REMARKS & REVIEW OF THE DAY
Venetian Ballroom, 4th Floor

9:15 A.M. -10:15 A.M.
PLENARY DISCUSSION – STATE INVESTMENTS IN SKILLS POLICIES
Advancing a skills equity agenda requires changing the way states invest in education and training, human services, and economic development. In this plenary session, speakers from states with different fiscal environments will discuss state investments in skills policies and the strategies used to make them happen. They will also discuss budget challenges and how they work with partners to address them.

• Jessica Fraser Director, Indiana Institute for Working Families
• Jerry Rubin President and CEO, Jewish Vocational Services (JVS) Boston
• Debra Jones Director of Workforce & Adult Education, California Community College Chancellor’s Office

MODERATOR: Rachel Unruh National Skills Coalition

10:15 A.M. – 10:30 A.M.
BREAK
VENETIAN BALLROOM FOYER, 4TH FLOOR

10:30 A.M.- 12:00 P.M.
PEER SHARE SESSIONS – EXPANDING ADVOCACY PARTNERSHIPS AND BUILDING COALITIONS
Forum participants will have the opportunity to engage in small group discussions with peers from other states on advocacy tactics. Members of emerging coalitions will be matched with those from longstanding coalitions to discuss coalition capacity-building and organizing. Members of more experienced networks and coalitions will be grouped together for a deeper dive into policy, communications, and advocacy strategy.

SESSION LEAD: Jessie Hogg Leslie National Skills Coalition

12:00 P.M. – 1:30 P.M.
LUNCH: REFLECTIONS AND NEXT STEPS
Venetian Ballroom, 4th Floor

National Skills Coalition CEO Andy Van Kleunen will solicit reflections and thoughts on next steps from participants.

1:30 P.M. – 1:45 P.M.
CLOSING REMARKS
Venetian Ballroom, 4th Floor

Alice Pritchard Connecticut State Colleges and Universities and National Skills Coalition Board Member

2:00 P.M. – 3:00 P.M.
OPTIONAL TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE
Lobby Bar on 1st Floor

Participants and state teams are invited to stay for one-on-one advice on specific policy and advocacy questions.

The Skills in the States Forum is made possible through the generous financial support of the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, JPMorgan Chase & Co., and the Joyce Foundation.

www.nationalskillscoalition.org

Photos used with permission from Jewish Vocational Services, San Francisco and Boston; Focus:Hope, Detroit; Baltimore Workforce Funders Collaborative; and Vermont Adult Learning.